

Wilson: "No more games."

Washington, D.C. -- Congressman Charlie Wilson (OH-6) hailed the Senate passage today of legislation to rein in Wall Street, end taxpayer bailouts of big banks, and create a consumer financial protection bureau that finally puts consumers first. The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act will end the era of abuses by "too big to fail" banks that have cost the American people 8 million jobs and $17 trillion in retirement savings and net worth. The legislation will now go to the President to be signed into law.

"This is a message to Wall Street: no more games," Wilson said. "Oversight will be provided, fairness will be ensured and the American people will be protected."
